Dear Sirs,

Re: Local Plan

Whilst I can understand the logic of Halberton joining Tiverton in future neighbourhood local development planning, my concern is that Halberton should preserve its identity as a village and not be swallowed up by the eastern urban expansion of Tiverton. It is, therefore, my opinion that the eastern urban expansion should go no further than East Manley Lane. It would thus leave the country park/canal an adequate buffer between Tiverton and Halberton and in so would not lose its appeal as a leisure and tourist attraction. At the same time maintaining the identity of Halberton as a village.

Yours faithfully —

J.A. SMITH
