Mid Devon Plan Review

With regard to the options up for consideration I would register the following points

1. The size of housing development between J27 and Willand is totally unacceptable. Contrary to the principles laid down, it does not protect the environment
2. There is no mention of schools or medical provision to serve such a vast development
3. Any commercial provision to serve such a development would certainly adversely affect other local enterprises in the area
Such a large development joining on to Willand would make a nonsense of 'village' status, being such a large conurbation
4. Main development should be adjacent to Cullompton where it would provide much needed infrastructure and enhance the commercial provision there. Together with improved access to the M5 at J28 and a revitalised railway station Cullompton would become a major hub for the area.
