Comment Reasons:

Comment: I can confirm that the statement made by [REDACTED] is entirely correct. I first met [REDACTED] Autumn 2009 at his business/ home where he continues to make various items and tools that I use every day in my current business. These are tools that are hard to get hold of as they are only made with the traditional skills and methods that [REDACTED] has been a master of for a long time now. As a business we depend on these tools and I think it goes without saying how much [REDACTED] has contributed to his local community for which he is so well known.

Kind regards

Adam James.
